

Syllabus

2016

INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS UNIVERSITY OF WARSAW

CENTRE
FOR CONTEMPORARY CHINA
STUDIES

Dispute Settlement in China

"Increase of EU's economic potential in relations with China"
Leonardo da Vinci – Transfer of Innovation

General Information

Course title		Dispute Settlement in China
Faculty/Institute		VUB
Programme for which the course is offered		BUSINESS LAW & BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA
Course ID
Erasmus code
Course group
Didactic cycle
Type/form of class		Seminar
Brief course description		The object of the course is to study methods of resolving disputes in China other than by adjudications in state courts. The main aim is to familiarize students with a wide range of dispute resolution processes alternative to conventional forms adjudications and their impact on the Chinese legal system.
Full course description		The object of the course is to study methods of resolving disputes in China other than by adjudications in state courts. The main aim is to familiarize students with a wide range of dispute resolution processes alternative to conventional forms adjudications and their impact on the Chinese legal system. It will explore the history and origin of ADR in China, and its international role in a globalized world. It will also compare Chinese ADR techniques to traditional 'Western' characteristics, discussing what is specific to Chinese arbitration and its proper applications and limitations to different circumstances. The course aims to achieve a balance between an examination of theoretical and practical issues
Prerequisites	Formal prerequisites	—
	other prerequisites	Basic skills in law.
Learning outcomes		Students have knowledge about different methods of dispute settlement in China. They know their strength and weaknesses
ECTS credits
Assessment methods and criteria		Written exam (30%) Case studies (45%) Class participation (25%)
Type of examination		Exam and case studies
Type of course		seminar

Mode of delivery	In-class seminars
Language of instruction	English
Bibliography
Work placement(s)	-
Course coordinator	Kim Van der Borght
Academic teachers	Philippe Billiet, Saisai Wang & Kim Van der Borght
Remarks	—

Detailed Information

Name of the academic teacher	Philippe Billiet, Saisai Wang, Kim Van der Borght
Academic degree
Form of the class	Seminar
Learning outcomes	Students have knowledge about different methods of dispute settlement in China. They know their strength and weaknesses.
Assessment methods and criteria for this course	Written exam (30%) Case studies (45%) Class participation (25%)
Type of examination	Exam
A list of topics	-Origin/History of ADR in China -ADR Mechanisms -Arbitration in Mainland China -Differences and Particularities in Chinese ADR -Chinese commercial arbitrations by arbitration institutes out of Mainland China -Recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards in China
Learning activities and teaching methods	lecture; text analysis Group work in class; Case studies.
Bibliography	'Chinese Arbitration: a selection of pitfalls' (ed. Association for International Arbitration) power point presentations provided by lecturer.
Limit of places available
Time

Place
-------	--

“Increase of EU's economic potential in relations with China”
Leonardo da Vinci – Transfer of Innovation